The President's Message

"It is a school of great, strange things, this Cumberland University at Lebanon, in the middle basin of Tennessee," says Dixon Merritt.

"It is small, as size is measured among great things, old as age is counted in a young world; obscure enough that if you live outside the skewed circle of its patronage, you may never have heard its name; yet powerful enough that you have unquestionably felt its influence profoundly."

Cumberland University came into being in the forties of the last century—in 1842, forty-six years after Tennessee was admitted to the Union—and is one of the oldest institutions of higher learning in the central South. Its well-known School of Law was organized in 1847.

The wide influence and distinction which belongs to this historic institution must be ascribed to reasons other than size and resources. It has been, and remains today, a beacon, a pillar of hope to aspiring young men and women of a great region, young people often of scant means, circumscribed in circumstances but of magnificent fiber. The mission of Cumberland University has been, and will continue to be, to cultivate these latent abilities, to stir them into action in a Christian environment, and to release them for the advancement of the higher interests of the nation, and the attainment of Christian objectives.

From the halls of Cumberland University have come some fifty college and university presidents, nearly one hundred college professors, thirty or more foreign missionaries and ministers of the Gospel, two United States Supreme Court Justices, ten United States Senators, four United States ambassadors, eleven governors of states, sixty-six congressmen, many state and federal judges and district attorneys, one Secretary of State of the United States, and many others who have risen to positions of trust. More than 12,000 public servants are numbered among Cumberland's alumni.

Early in 1946 the Tennessee Baptist Convention received Cumberland University from the friendly hands of its trustees after more than a century during which the institution had been operated under Presbyterian auspices. The University is now moving in the early years of its second century with a heritage of the approval brought about by its loyalty to Christian ideals and the interest of its prominent alumni who rise to call it blessed.

Beginning with the fall session of 1946, the College of Arts and Sciences will be reorganized into five divisions and will give consistent emphasis to high academic standards and a curriculum reflecting a sound and progressive educational policy.

After nearly a century of successful pioneering in legal education, the School of Law, beginning with the fall session of 1946, will strengthen and enlarge its program in accordance with recommendations of leading educators and representatives of the legal profession. Two years of pre-law college work will be required for entrance into the School of Law under the new program. Three years of nine months each will be required for the LL.B. degree.

Administrative policy, faculty selection, students accepted, and the activity program of the University will be focused upon the achievement of this ideal of the new Cumberland University—"A University with world-wide vision and a Christian atmosphere."

Organization of the College

The various departments of study in the College of Arts and Sciences are for administrative purposes grouped into five major Divisions.

I. DIVISION OF FINE ARTS:

V. DIVISION OF RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY:

Philosophy

Religion

The degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science may be obtained by completing a divisional major in any one of the five divisions along with certain specified requirements in the other divisions. For specific information regarding degrees please turn to the section entitled, "Requirements for the Bachelor's Degree."

In order to provide a flexible program of experiences to fit the needs of every student, rigid barriers between departments and even divisions have been completely removed. As long as the minimum requirements are met, the student is free to enroll for any subject which will contribute to his general education.

Organization of the School of Law

Prior to July 1946, the School of Law of Cumberland University required only two years of study for the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Under the new organization the course of study for the degree in law has been lengthened to three years. At the same time the academic requirements for admission to the School of Law have been increased to at least two years of college credit, or a minimum of 96 quarter hours of regular college work, chiefly in the fields of English, speech, psychology, and the social sciences.

The schedule of classes in the School of Law will correspond to that of the College of Arts and Sciences, permitting a student in either branch of the University to pursue courses in the other branch, as his individual needs may require.

The regular student load will be 16 hours each week. Of these 16, there will be 14 in regular class work and 2 hours earned by attendance upon special lectures and Moot Court, which furnishes excellent practical experience in applying legal principles and learning customary court procedures.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws is conferred upon those who have met the general requirements of the University and have earned 144 quarter hours of credit in the School of Law, with a quality point-average of one in the work done in the School of Law of Cumberland University.

The courses outlined below for three years of law apply only to students who are beginning the study of law under the new organization. They will be in effect for all new students on and after September 16, 1946. These courses will be scheduled to meet in one-hour periods throughout the day and week just as the classes in the College of Arts and Sciences. The normal student load will be 15 to 17 hours per week.

Students enrolled in the School of Law prior to July 10, 1946, will continue on the old schedule as a separate group, and will receive their degrees in accordance with regulations in effect prior to July 10, 1946.

Admission to The University

Students entering Cumberland University enter either the School of Law or the College of Arts and Sciences. Requirements for admission to each of these branches of the University are explained below.

I. ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF LAW

Admission to the School of Law requires the completion of at least the Freshman and Sophomore years of the College of Arts and Sciences, or a minimum of 96 quarter hours of acceptable college work. This work will be done principally in the departments of business, economics, English, history, political science, psychology, sociology, and speech. It is advisable for the student to follow the regular requirements leading toward the A.B. degree.

Applicants may enter the School of Law with advanced standing by transferring credits from other schools of law (except correspondence schools), but in no case may advanced standing reduce the requirement of 45 hours of residence at Cumberland University.

Applicants who cannot meet the entrance requirements but are sufficiently mature to pursue courses in law may be admitted as unclassified students. Such students may not be classified or become candidates for the LL.B. degree until all entrance requirements have been met.

II. ADMISSION TO THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

A. Admission as a Freshman

1. The applicant fills an information blank furnished by the Registrar upon request.
2. A certificate of good character is presented from a school official or a minister.
3. Evidence of good health and of freedom from contagious diseases is furnished either by examination or by a physician's certificate.

4. The applicant must file with the Registrar an official transcript of the work taken in high school. This transcript should show at least 15 units as specified below.

| | Minimum Units |
|---|--------------------------|
| English | 3 |
| Mathematics | 2 |
| Science | 1 |
| Social Science | 1 |
| Selected from English, science, mathematics, social science, and foreign languages | 2 |
| Elective from acceptable list | 6 |
| | — |
| | 15 |

Acceptable Units

| | Maximum Units |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Algebra | 2 |
| Biology | 1 |
| Chemistry | 1 |
| English | 4 |
| French | 4 |
| General Science | 1 |
| Geometry, plane | 1 |
| Geometry, solid | 1½ |
| German | 4 |

| History | 4 |
| Latin | 4 |
| Physics | 1 |
| Physiography | 1½ |
| Spanish | 4 |
| Social science (integrated) | 3 |
| Vocational subjects | 3 |

5. An applicant who lacks the necessary high-school units may make them up by examination in the subjects required, or in certain cases by using college credit for entrance units.

B. Admission to advanced standing in the College of Arts and Sciences

Students transferring to Cumberland from approved colleges are admitted with advanced standing, provided that they must make a satisfactory record during the first quarter of residence at the University. The application for advanced standing should be accompanied by an official transcript of the applicant's high-school and college credits, together with a certificate of good standing at the college attended. In no case may transferred credits reduce the minimum of 45 hours of residence credit required for a degree at Cumberland University.

In case a transfer student leaves Cumberland before graduation, his transcript will contain only the college credit earned at Cumberland University.

C. Admission as unclassified or special students

Provision is made for the admission of a restricted number of mature persons who are unable to meet the regular entrance requirements, provided that such students give evidence of being able to pursue successfully the courses which they desire. Those admitted as unclassified or special students should endeavor to become regular students as soon as possible, since unclassified students may not become candidates for degrees.

Divisional Courses

The liberally educated person has an interest in and an appreciation of the various fields of human culture. Such an integrated personality is best developed by acquiring worthy, significant experiences which are initiated by the Divisional Courses described below. Each student is required to take the general course in each of the five divisions, or its equivalent in the case of a student who enters with advanced standing. Generally these courses should be taken in the Freshman Year, but not all in any one quarter. As far as practicable each divisional course should be pursued prior to, or concurrent with, other courses in the Division.

I. Division of Fine Arts

FINE ARTS 100. Appreciation of the Fine Arts. (2). Designed to enhance the appreciation of the aesthetic in Art, Music, and Speech as means of expression. Fall, winter, and summer.

II. Division of Language and Literature

LANGUAGE 100. Language Development. (2). An appreciation of the chief occidental languages and literatures through a study of language development. Fall, spring, summer.

III. Division of Science and Mathematics

SCIENCE 100. Man and the Physical World. (2). A study of the materials and methods of science and mathematics in man's attempts to understand the phenomena of the natural world. Fall, winter, and summer.

IV. Division of Social Science

SOCIAL SCIENCE 100. Man and the Social World. (2). The contribution of the various social sciences in the improvement of human relationships through the development of means of social cooperation. Fall, spring, summer.

V. Division of Religion and Philosophy

RELIGION 100. Man and the Cosmos. (2). Designed to give orientation and a consistent point of view regarding man's relationship to God and to the material universe. Fall, winter, summer.

General Academic Regulations

MAJORS AND MINORS

Two types of major courses of study are offered in the College of Arts and Sciences of Cumberland University. The Divisional Major is recommended for those who desire the broadest type of general education in the arts and sciences. This major consists of at least 45 hours selected from one of the five Divisions (explained elsewhere). For those who desire greater concentration in one subject a Departmental Major is offered in certain subjects as explained below. This major consists of at least 36 hours.

A divisional major may be taken in any one of the five divisions. For the present, a departmental major of 36 hours is offered in each of the following subjects:

|-----------|----------|
| Chemistry | History |
| Education | Music |
| English | Religion |

A departmental minor of at least 27 hours may be taken in any one of the following subjects:

| | | |
|-----------|-------------|-------------|
| Biology | French | Mathematics |
| Business | German | Music |
| Chemistry | Greek | Religion |
| Economics | History | Spanish |
| Education | Home Making | Speech |
| English | Latin | |

THE UNIT OF CREDIT

At Cumberland the unit of credit is the quarter hour. This represents one 50-minute period of acceptable class work each week for twelve weeks. The requirement for graduation is 192 hours in the College of Arts and Sciences, and 144 hours in the School of Law.

STUDENT LOAD

A student normally carries 16 hours of work a week; the maximum without special permission is 17. In certain instances a student whose quality of work has been satisfactory may by special permission of his Dean register for more than 17. Such permission is usually conditioned upon a point average equal to a mark of "B" or better.

THE MARKING SYSTEM

Every student duly enrolled in a course is assigned a mark by the instructor at the end of the course indicating the character of the work done. The various marks with their meanings are indicated below.

- A* is distinguished and is usually received by only a small percentage of a class.
- B* is distinctly superior to the average of the class.
- C* is the average or typical mark of a class, and is usually assigned more frequently than any other mark.
- D* is distinctly inferior to the average, but is passing.
- E* is conditioned, and entitles the student to another examination with the permission of the instructor in charge. E is recorded F unless removed during the subsequent quarter.
- F* is failure to receive credit for the course.
- I* is incomplete, and signifies that some requirement of the course has not been met, such as a paper to be written or an examination to be taken.
- W* is withdrawal from a course without penalty and by the permission of the Dean.

QUALITY POINTS

Each hour of work taken in the University is evaluated in terms of its relative quality as shown by the mark received in a course. The various marks with their corresponding quality points are shown below.

- A* 3 quality points for each quarter hour
- B* 2 quality points for each quarter hour
- C* 1 quality point for each quarter hour
- D* 0 quality points
- F* —1 quality point for each quarter hour

For graduation, 192 quality points are required in the College of Arts and Sciences, and 144 in the School of Law, or an average of one quality point for each quarter hour of credit received at Cumberland University. Quality points are not reckoned on credits transferred from other institutions.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREE (College of Arts and Sciences)

I. GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Certain uniform requirements are necessary to qualify for either the degree of Bachelor of Arts or the degree of Bachelor of Science. The candidate must (1) satisfy all entrance requirements; (2) complete at least 45 hours (just preceding graduation) in residence at Cumberland University, or in certain cases in a professional school; (3) meet the minimum divisional requirements explained below; (4) complete either a Divisional Major of at least 45 hours, or a Departmental Major of at least 36 hours; students majoring in the division of Language and Literature for the A.B. degree must complete also a minor of 27 hours in another division; (5) earn a minimum of 192 hours of credit either in residence or by advanced standing; and (6) make a quality point-average equal to a mark of "C" in all work taken at Cumberland.

The Education of Teachers

REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTIFICATES

Licenses to teach in Tennessee are issued by the State Commissioner of Education to those who meet the requirements described below. In addition to these academic and professional requirements, a candidate for a teacher's certificate is required by law to be a person of good moral character, at least 18 years of age, and not addicted to the use of intoxicants or narcotics.

Cumberland University offers the academic and professional courses necessary for certification as teachers in the elementary schools and in the regular academic subjects of the high school. These objectives are achieved by pursuing regular courses prescribed for a bachelor's degree and by taking the necessary professional courses in education.

The permanent professional certificate for teachers in high schools is issued to senior college graduates who have completed at least 27 quarter hours in specified professional courses and 18 quarter hours in each subject to be taught in high school.

The permanent professional certificate for teachers in elementary schools requires at least two years of college work, or at least 90 quarter hours, of which at least 18 quarter hours must be in designated professional courses.

HOME MAKING

The courses in Home Making are not designed to make specialists in home economics or industrial arts. They emphasize rather the unspecialized practical arts needed by every adult member of a household, men as well as women. Every one should know how to select and prepare basic foods; how to select and care for clothing; how to administer first aid; how to care for and repair simple household tools and appliances; and many other useful arts, including interior decorating, child care, and consumer buying. With these objectives in view, the following non-specialized courses are offered.

MUSIC

The music department offers opportunity for all who desire to learn the essentials of music, either vocal music or skillful performance on an instrument. Classes in musical theory and individual instruction in voice and instrumental music are provided to meet the needs of the students.

Those who desire the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in music must meet the general requirements for this degree as outlined elsewhere. Also they must complete a sequence of at least 30 hours in musical theory and history taken in conjunction with a study of applied music during the four years either in voice or instrumental music. A maximum of 15 hours of credit may be secured in applied music. The quality of work acceptable in voice or instrumental music is determined by the instructor in charge. Those majoring in voice are required to complete two years in piano, or to demonstrate equivalent ability.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

Cumberland University is interested in the maintenance of the health of each student enrolled, and in the student's understanding and appreciation of the importance of recreational activities in the home, the school, and the community. To accomplish these purposes systematic instruction is offered in (1) recreational activities and (2) courses in the principles of physical training.

Recreational activities are required of all students during the Freshman and Sophomore years. Such activities are so organized as to keep the student physically conditioned to do the academic work of the University. These include the usual college games and sports carefully supervised and approved by the University so as to constitute a systematic program of recreation throughout the first two years. These exercises are sufficiently varied to meet the physical needs and desires of each student, as determined by physical examination or a physician's certificate. Some are corrective, some recreational, and some are purely play and serve to keep one physically fit.

Although credit hours are not allowed for these activities, two hours each week are required of Freshmen and Sophomores. In colleges allowing credit for recreation activities (Physical Education Service Courses), these courses would usually receive a credit of 1 hour each quarter. At Cumberland these requirements are in addition to the 192 quarter hours necessary for the bachelor's degree.

Fiscal Policy

The school year is divided into quarters both for the readjustment of classes and the payment of expenses. The following designated amounts are due and payable at the beginning of the respective quarters. Expenses are not charged by the month, but by the quarter for the convenience of the student.

All expenses must be settled at the Business Office before a student will be enrolled in any class. The student who cannot pay cash may see the Business Executive and make satisfactory arrangements before entering classes.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Expenses for each quarter become due and payable on the first day of the quarter. Tuition and fees for students who are carrying twelve to seventeen hours are $50.00 for each quarter. Of this amount $30.00 is for tuition and $20.00 is for operation and maintenance, student activity, matriculation, and library fees. A charge of $4.00 is made for every hour above seventeen hours (allowed) per quarter. For courses in the School of Law a tuition charge of $5.00 per quarter hour is made when students in the College of Arts and Sciences are permitted to take more than the normal student load of seventeen hours.

In addition, the following quarter fees are charged for laboratory courses: Biology, Physics, and Chemistry, $5.00 each; a breakage deposit of $5.00 is required on each of these courses for the first quarter of each year, a portion of the unused balance is returnable at the end of the year. Home Making, Foods and Related Courses, $5.00 per quarter; Clothing and Related Courses $3.50. A charge of $2.00 is made for late registration. No refunds are made on any fees except for causes deemed sufficient by the University. A diploma fee of $10.00 is payable with the other fees of the last quarter of the Senior year. All fees, tuition, including room and board, are payable by the quarter in advance at the Business Office.

SCHOOL OF LAW

Tuition and fees for each quarter of the year are $80.00. Of this amount, $60.00 is for tuition and $20.00 is for operation and maintenance, student activity, matriculation, and library fees.

A tuition charge of $4.00 per quarter hour is made for all courses taken by law students in the College of Arts and Science when such courses are in addition to the normal law course.

No refunds are made on any fees except for causes deemed sufficient by the University.

All tuition, fees, including room rent and board, are payable by the quarter in advance at the Business office.

DORMITORIES FOR MEN AND WOMEN

The cost of rooming accommodations and board in the men's and women's dormitories is $120.00 per quarter (subject to change) payable in advance. All dormitories are closed during intermissions and Christmas holidays.

For those desiring a single room, there will be an additional charge of $7.50 per room per quarter when such rooms are available.

Room reservation: $5.00 is required to reserve a room before the opening of school, this being transferred to room deposit when the student enters: same will be refunded at the end of the year in the event there is no damage, or other charge recorded. The key deposit is $1.00. The deposit is required at the beginning of the first quarter. A charge is made for damage done to school property, either direct or pro-rated.

Students must furnish electric light bulbs, single sheets for 3 x 6 foot bed, pillow cases, and the necessary blankets. Other articles may be brought for room decorations. Students are required to abide by the dormitory rules governing the use of radios and other devices.

All unmarried students, both regular and special, as well as those married students who are not accompanied by their families are required to live in the University dormitories during their first year (3 quarters) as long as there is room available. Students living out in town shall live in places approved by the University.

All students who room in the dormitories are required to board in the University dining hall. Students who have rooms off the campus will be accepted as boarders at the regular boarding rates.

There will be no deduction for table board, except for continuous absence of three weeks, no fractions of a week are considered. No meals are served on Sunday evenings. The rates will be the same for the young women as for the young men.

General Regulations. It is understood that each student who accepts a place in the dormitories agrees to abide by the ordinary requirements of gentlemanly or ladylike behavior, remembering that each is but one of a family and that others have rights that must be respected.

It is also understood that the privileges of the dormitories are granted only on condition that any form of hazing is strictly prohibited and that each student is absolutely protected in the right of his or her own room.

The available work for self-help students is limited; therefore, it is necessary that students, who desire to pay part of their expenses by self-help, file applications in the Business office.

No payments will be refunded to students who leave the University for any reason except in case of illness involving absence for more than half a quarter, and then not more than one-half of the proportionate tuition charge, and room and board, for such period of absence, will be refunded. No refunds are made on any type of fees. Students will be expected to submit a letter from parents and attending physician when requesting a refund on account of illness.

Any student who is drafted into the service shall receive a refund on any unused tuition, room and board which has been paid to the University.

All financial obligations to the University must be met before examinations will be offered, credits recorded, transferred, or a diploma granted.

The University is not responsible for any financial obligation incurred by a student, organization, member of the faculty or employee, or others, unless authorized by the President in writing.

The University must approve or disapprove all contracts, agreements, any and all types and forms of student concessions or financial assistance, and the like entered into by and between the students, University, class groups, etc. The University has supervision and charge of student publications, directories, programs, yearbooks, as well as the awarding of dormitory and campus concessions.

All college books and other supplies are secured from the University Book Store.
